Natural Support for Stress Relief

Suitable for continued use; this dairy and caffeine-free vegan supplement utilizes optimal proportions of vitamins, minerals and nutrients to support stress relief. This special time-release formula with optimal absorption, provides nutrients to support overworked adrenal glands.

These ingredients have been shown to help maintain normal stress hormone production. With a Rich Source of B-Vitamins and 5-HTP, this especially designed nutrient complex uses the B vitamins for many vital processes, including energy production which is generally required more during periods of stress. 5-HTP is an amino acid that helps regulate stress-hormones and mood. Kelp a sea vegetable that contains potassium, iodine, B vitamins and minerals can provide powerful support for glandular health.
